A successful transaction does not occur by chance. Success, in most real estate transactions, is entirely attributed to the professionalism of a real estate agent. Craig Bamford, you are a professional real estate agent. You never influenced me, you listened attentively and acted on it. I was impressed by your honesty and efficiency. Communicating with you was easy and effortless. I will not hesitate to recommend you to any future client. I'm a contented customer.

I have found the First National Real Estate Office and in particular Craig Bamford to be extremely professional and friendly to deal with. His service and advice have been fast, accurate and efficient and with more than a little local knowledge sprinkled in to make the process of locating and purchasing real estate in this beautiful but competitive market location, Margaret River, a real pleasure. I believe Craig and the First National team are good at what they do because they really enjoy what they do and it shows.
